-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6-19-2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

1. The applicant argues that Blow does not reject the claims. The examiner disagrees since he must give the claims their broadest reasonable interpretation. At issue is the choice of "non-technical" language used by the applicant in their claim(s) and their argument(s) (eg. instead of amendments) to overcome the prior art. The examiner does not fully agree with the applicant's narrow interpretations of the word "ability" when applied to the ability to download and transfer data between the two devices. A broad interpretation is clearly shown (page 6, L4-11) whereby the mobile device's controller interacts with the accessory's memory to "initiate a download of software". Again, broadly speaking, this fully shows that the controller understands which software to ask for/download and reads on the claims (as written).

The applicant is invited to amend their claims with a more detailed description of their design in order to overcome the prior art. This way, the examiner is constrained from broadly interpreting the claim(s).

2. The examiner disagrees with the applicant's characterization that he has contradicted himself regarding "Official Notice". When this examiner uses an Official Notice, he always puts forth that the prior art is actually "silent" on a teaching and one would modify the teaching. I did not use the term "inherent", which would not require a motivation statement, hence the Official Notice statement includes "motivation".

3. As stated in #1 above, the examiner believes the claims to be broadly written and requests that more technical language be put forth to focus their design such that it fully conveys their inventive concept (and overcomes the prior art's teachings). This may provide a more favorable outcome in the future.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
